figures, following the names of heads of families, give the age-group distribution of white males (under 10, 10-15, 16-25, 26-44, and over 45 years of age). The second five columns give the same information concerning white females. The last two columns give the number of all other free persons except Indians not taxed, and the number of slaves.

A sheet of the schedules constitutes two pages of the volume. It has been noted above that the pages bear two sets of numbers: the penciled page numbers in the left-hand margins, which have been used in the table of contents given above, and which are suggested for use in citation because of the greater ease of reading them on the microcopy; and another set of penciled numbers appearing near the right-hand margins, and at right angles to the entries on the schedules.

In referring to the schedules, scholars may wish to indicate that they are among the records of the Bureau of the Census in The National Archives. Reference to a specific entry should probably be made by page number. The following form of citation seems appropriate: Second Census (1800), District of Columbia, page 124.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The volume of which a part is microcopied on this roll has the following backstrip title: "Second / Census / 1800 / Population / Dela. / Kent / New Castle / Sussex / District / of / Columbia." The part of the volume microcopied here comprises the population schedules of the census of 1800 for the portion of the District of Columbia that was originally included in the State of Maryland. These schedules were originally bound with the Maryland population schedules, in which arrangement two different sets of page numbers were applied to them. The present volume, the major part of which consists of the separately paged Delaware schedules, was put together in its present binding about 1935.

Population schedules for the part of the District of Columbia that was originally included in the State of Virginia, together with the schedules for that State, have not been found. Approximately four-sevenths of the population of the District was enumerated in the schedules which are reproduced here.

The schedules are arranged in several sections, as follows:

1. The District of Columbia outside the City of Washington and formerly a part of Montgomery County, Maryland, p. 75-86;<sup>1</sup>
2. Georgetown, p. 87-116;
3. The City of Washington, p. 117-150;
4. The District of Columbia outside the City of Washington and formerly a part of Prince Georges County, Maryland, p. 150-158;
5. Recapitulation, p. 158.

Subsumed under these sections, the information in these schedules is presented in terms of family units, not individuals. When read from left to right across the page, the first five columns of
